I am pleased to tell you that your paper "Fire effects on different functional groups of tree species in the southwestern Brazilian Amazon", ref. [20927], sent to Forest Systems, has been accepted for publication.

The manuscript now undergoes a copyediting process, please wait until the copyeditor contacts you. The copyeditor performs the clean-up edit. This edit occasionally generates new queries, which are sent to the author. FS reserves the right to correct grammar, improve clarity, and impose FS style. FS reserves the right to refuse publication of articles that, upon repeated resubmission, do not meet stylistic standards. After copyediting is complete, the issue is produced.

Papers will not be published until all required minor changes have been incorporated into the document.

For any queries about the copyediting process of your submission, please contact the Managing Editor, Margarita Elvira-Recueno, at forestsystems@inia.csic.es. Kindly avoid reaching out to other editors, as they are not involved in the copyediting or production stages.
